anthropologists criticize some components of bioethics because of their abstract principles derived from arm chair philosophy and lack of cross cultural analysis and ethnocentric view for that they prepare a readymade ethical code of conduct which may differ significantly from culture to culture this volume aims to investigate such area of bioethics which may criticize in the light of anthropological fieldwork the work also finds some area of bioethics to study cultural construct of morality including cross cultural analysis keeping in mind cultural relativism in true sense the present work is an outcome of national seminar entitled ethical issues in anthropological research organized by department of anthropology west bengal state university during 19 20 january 2012 hope this work will be of interest not only to anthropologists or scholars of related field but also funding agencies and participant beneficiaries of the said field in this new edition the text has been revised to reflect new developments in nursing ethics book jacket

why write another book on ethics as practitioners we are involved both in the design and delivery of services to people with mental health problems in common with all other professionals our work has led to the experience of ethical dilemmas typically these have involved major confrontations either with our colleagues or our consciences this book however is not limited to a discussion of such major themes rather we have tried to use a broader canvas ethics in our view is really about the judgement of right and wrong in ordinary everyday life ethics are highly personal we fashion our own personal code from our experience of others and from the tests which bring meaning to our lives such experiences shape our individual values we bring these codes and values to our work we are not always aware of their influence in our dealings with people although we may not always be aware of it all our actions pose an ethical question given that our work involves us in helping others to live ordinary satisfying lives this challenge heightens the intensity of our ethical dilemmas this is most evident where our personal code conflicts with the implicit code of the health setting this set is comprehensive and technically literate and more informative on regulation and policy issues thomas murray is a world renowned leader in this field for courses on ethical professional and legal issues in counseling and psychology departments this ethics text focuses on counseling and counseling psychology in a format that serves beginning students provides a useful format and structure for professors teaching ethics courses and inspires critical thought about ethical issues through case scenarios reprints of many codes of ethics and narrative information this book not only functions as an introduction to professional counseling and counseling ethics but it also serves as a compendium of contemporary ethical codes and issues
